The Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts, Schools of Architecture, Design and Conservation (KADK)

Founded in 1754, KADK hosts three of the world's leading schools in architecture, design and conservation. The academy includes worldclass study and research environments engaged in bachelor, master and PhD programmes taught in Danish and English.

KADK is an educational institution under The Danish Ministry of Higher Education and Science and carries out education and research within the subject fields of the three schools. We live and breathe architecture, design and conservation around the clock. Our main campus is located in the lively capital of Denmark, Copenhagen - known as the bridge between Scandinavia and continental Europe.

KADK has more than 1,600 students and the equivalent of 350 full-time employees who create learning, research, artistic development and dynamic study environments at KADK's three campuses: Holmen and Esplanaden in Central Copenhagen and at the Arts and Crafts Department on the island of Bornholm.
